CELEBRATING THE INTERNATIONAL DAY FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE OZONE LAYER

Protecting Ozone: A step towards ensuring inter-generational equity

Centre for Environmental Law and Research (CELR), Law Centre-I organized a poster making competition on 16th September, 2019 to celebrate the International Day for the Preservation of the Ozone Layer. The theme for this year's World Ozone Day celebration was "32 years and healing" recognizing the efforts made by the international community towards preservation of the ozone layer since past 32 years. In consonance with the UNEP's efforts, the CELR borrowed the above-mentioned theme for the poster making competition. Students of the Centre participated in the competition with full vigour. They expressed their concerns about the protection and preservation of ozone layer by making colourful posters conveying significant messages.

SEPTEMBER 16, 2019

World Ozone Day Theme, 2019: 32 Years and Healing

The idea behind the programme was to encourage students to take some time out of their hectic study schedule and reflect upon the relevance of ozone layer for earth and therefore, the participants of the competition were awarded with best poster prizes, consolation prizes and participation certificates.

Prof. Sarbjit Kaur, Professor-in-Charge, Law Centre-I, and Prof. P. B. Pankaja acted as Judges for the competition. They encouraged the participants for their efforts, made them aware about the rising concern of Climate Change and reminded them about their duties towards mother nature. Dr. L. Pushpakumar, Director of the CELR, is of the view that it is very important to inculcate a sense of belongingness towards mother nature in our younger generation; remind them about their fundamental duty of protecting environment as enshrined in our Constitution, and feels that organizing such competitions becomes all the way more relevant in present time.

BEST POSTER AWARD

Student volunteers showed great enthusiasm in organizing the event and took care of all the background work needed to make this event prolific. The programme ended on a good note inspiring all of us to come out of our comfort zone and consciously make little changes in our day to day lives to save our environment.
